FEMA hearings in Hancock this week

New flood insurance rules may reduce new home costs

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

New home construction costs and Federal Flood Insurance rates may be minimized in many instances if guidelines in the proposed new Federal Flood Study are followed.

John S. Yeend, an ocean engineer of Gee and Jensen Consulting Engineers, Inc. of West Palm Beach, Fla.; and Don Hanford, Natural and Technological Hazards Branch community planner of the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Atlanta, Ga. office, both conducted a Wednesday afternoon public hearing at the Pass Christian City Hall to discuss the study with residents and businessmen.

A few public officials and insurance agents attended the meeting.

Meetings are also scheduled to hear public comments and answer questions at 10 a.m. today at the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis to discuss a study of that county, 2 p.m. today at Bay St. Louis City Hall to present that city's study, and at 9 a.m. Friday at Waveland City Hall for that area.

The studies for each county and city include Flood Insurance Rate Maps which will be the basis for establishing new National Flood Insurance Program requirements and construction ordinances along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Those new requirements include raising or lowering the present 13.1-foot (above sea level) Flood Plain foundation height requirement for new home construction, depending on several factors; and establishing velocity zones for areas subject to hurricane wave action which will in most cases raise the minimum foundation height and impose some construction restrictions.

Hanford said the new rules should be imposed along the Gulf Coast in approximately one year.

He noted the new requirements will allow constructing break-away solid-walled areas under homes on pilings, but the enclosure must not exceed 300-square-feet and that homeowner will pay a higher flood insurance rate.

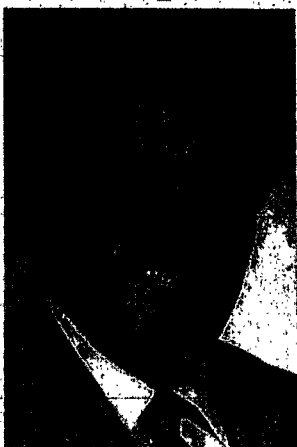

The FEMA official cited latticework or screening would not prompt an increased insurance rate.

Hanford revealed velocity zones will require raising the lowest horizontal supporting member on a home above the minimum elevation level.

He noted present requirements call for the foundation to be above the Dedeaux eyes circuit clerk's post

BILLY RAY DEDEAUX

Billy Ray Dedeaux of the Dedeaux Community has announced he is a candidate for the Circuit Clerk's office in the Dec. 7 special election.

He is the son of Hubert and June Dedeaux of Dedeaux.

The 29-year-old Dedeaux is a native and lifelong resident of Hancock County.

He is a graduate of Pearl River Junior College, received a BS degree from the University of Southern Mississippi in elementary education and is currently working on a master's degree in administration.

Dedeaux is a fourth-grade teacher at Hancock North Central Elementary School where he has been teaching for the past 6½ years.

He served as PTA president for two years, and formerly delivered The Sunday Herald in the Bay St. Louis area for some 1½ years.

He is an adult advisor for the Sacred Heart Catholic Youth Organization and has served with the group for seven years.

In 1981 he received the God and Youth Award as an outstanding advisor.

He is a member of the Diocesan Youth Forum for the Bay St. Louis Deanery.

"I have served the youth of the county and now I ask you to help me so that I may be able to serve all of the people of Hancock County," Dedeaux said.

"If elected, I will keep the clerk's office open on Saturday mornings and during evening hours at least one day a week for the convenience of the people," Dedeaux promised.

Another school board incumbent defeated in runoff election

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Another incumbent Hancock County School Board member was defeated in a Tuesday runoff election.

Incumbent Louie Ladner of the Standard Community lost by an almost 2-1 margin to Tommy Shaw of the Crane Creek Community, a former school board member.

Board Member Woodrow Ladner of the Catahoula Community failed in his bid for re-election in the Nov. 2 general election.

Billie Fay Lyons of the Firetower Road area defeated Ladner and will be the first woman board member to be seated in more than 20 years.

Charles Gottschalk of Bay St. Louis, election commission secretary.

Wednesday morning said Lyons and Shaw will be sworn into office Jan. 3 at the County Board of Supervisors meeting at the Courthouse in that city.

Unofficial returns compiled by the County Election Commission list Shaw receiving 1,216 votes and Louie Ladner gaining 634.

Shaw won by wide margins in all except four of the county's 18 voting precincts (See election returns, list Page 7A).

Ladner won in those four precincts which include Pearlington, Dedeaux, and Diamondhead East and West. Precinct returns were frequently announced Tuesday night at the Courthouse in groups of three or four.

Totals for each group of returns show Shaw steadily increasing his lead over Ladner.

Crane Creek was the second to last precinct tabulated and Ladner was soundly defeated, 272-355.

Just before the returns from that precinct were announced, the audience became anxiously silent.

Then Shaw supporters became jubilant after the total count for the community was announced.

Shaw's lead was then increased to 1,191 and Ladner totaled 627.

The last box tallied was Flat Top where Shaw also won, 7-25.

Bay Council makes haste to stop gas line leaks

By BRENT MACEY

The Bay St. Louis City Council made haste Tuesday to comply with an order from the Mississippi Public Service Commission requesting 'immediate action' to correct natural gas leakage of 'more than 20 percent' throughout the city.

Failure to take any action could result in enforcement action being taken by the federal government.

At a council meeting Tuesday councilmen read a letter from Mississippi Public Service Commissioners requesting the city reduce the amount of gas leakage in its distribution system to six percent—the minimum standard set by Congress under the Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Act in 1968.

Some 25.9 percent of the gas purchased from United Gas is currently unaccounted for, Council President Harry Favre stated after the meeting.

City Clerk Eddie Favre claimed Wednesday that the 25.9 percent figure represents the amount 'unaccounted for.'

"It's not all leakage," he said.

He claimed faulty gas meters and gas contained in a new city gas line not yet in service could contain gas which would be included in the 25.9 percent figure.

The letter reviewed Tuesday was the second time this year that the council has been contacted by the PSC requesting action be taken to remedy problems with the city's gas line distribution system. A first letter was mailed by the PSC June 16, but the city apparently did not respond.

In the second letter viewed Tuesday by the council, the PSC suggests the city adopt a five year program which will lead to compliance with minimum pipeline safety standards.

Boating hazards may be marked by Civil Defense

By BRENT MACEY

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday wrestled with the problem of who is responsible for marking underwater obstructions in the Gulf of Mexico.

After a lengthy discussion the board agreed to contact the United States Corps of Engineers to obtain permission allowing the Hancock County Civil Defense to do the work.

Last year, Hancock County Civil Defense Director Robert (Bobby) Boudin, searched out five underwater obstructions in the Mississippi Sound which present a hazard to boaters.

They include a sunken metal barge, two sunken boats and two large concrete slabs.

All the obstructions are barely visible at low tide, but at high tide the obstructions—located along the shore from Bayou Cadet to Lighthouse Point—are submerged by only inches of water, and are invisible to boaters.

Numerous cases of boaters who have struck the objects have been reported, but no action has been taken by the United States Corps of Engineers, the State of Mississippi, the United States Coast Guard or Hancock County, to have the objects either marked or removed.

Supervisors Monday noted they do not have the equipment to move the obstructions. In addition they claim they do not have the authority.

This contention is based on the out-

United Way tardy urged to contribute

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Regular Hancock County United Way contributors are urged to donate now to help the organization reach its 1982 fund-raising campaign goal.

Norton Haas, local United Way board president, at a Tuesday regular Board of Directors meeting issued the appeal to the contributors.

Conrad Mauffray, UW executive director, reported many donations from regular contributors have not been received, but are needed so the organization can reach its $40,000 goal this year.

Contributions thus far total some $28,671, he said.

Haas noted United Way volunteer workers this week are telephoning regular contributors who have not yet donated to urge them to give now.

Pat Harvill of Waveland, a board member, reported American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 77 in that city this week contributed $50 to the campaign.

Paul Lewis of Bay St. Louis, also a board member reported he collected donations from several organizations including $150 from St. Augustine Seminary in that city, $50 from the Hancock Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and about $25 from First Missionary Baptist Church also in the Bay.

Hancock's United Way helps fund the County Emergency Relief Fund, Gulf Coast Mental Health Center, Mississippi Council of Epilepsy, County American Red Cross Chapter, Hancock Blood Bank, County Senior Citizens Center, Hancock Retired Senior Volunteer Program, Catholic Social and Community Services, Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries, U.S.O. Worldwide, Girl Scouts, Pine County Council, Boy Scouts, Cypress District, Young Men's Christian Association, and the Hancock Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund.

The local United Way has operated since 1964 with the assistance of area residents as volunteer workers, Haas noted.

These volunteers allow the organization to keep operating expenses to about seven percent of annual campaign collections, he added.

All United Way donations are tax deductible.

sideration of the cost of staff needed to run the facility.

Rosser said the staffing cost is "critical" and can amount to 85 percent of the cost of maintaining the building once the facility is constructed.

She noted the design of the building can eliminate having to employ a large number of staff. The model she displayed was designed so that one employee could view some 576 prisoners from a central office.

Other pitfalls Rosser said should be avoided include planning a jail which will not allow for future expansion.

She also recommended designing a building which would limit construction and maintenance costs and also suggested the building be designed to promote strict separation between inmates and jail personnel.

Virginia man charged with statutory rape

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A Chesapeake, Va. resident has been charged with the statutory rape of a 13-year-old girl, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Peterson said, "On Wednesday a 13-year-old girl was brought to the sheriff's office by her father to give a statement concerning the incident. The girl had been confirmed as being six months pregnant by a physician."

"John Benny III, 33, was arrested in connection with the pregnancy by Hancock Deputy Dennis Tartavouille," Peterson added.

Peterson stated, "Bond was set at $1,000 on Benny, as an initial investigation revealed it was not a forceable act."

Mississippi law forbids an adult from having sexual relations with a person under the age of 18 of previous chaste character, according to the sheriff.

Benny was reportedly working in the county and left for awhile before returning.

Hancock Investigator Alving Ladner is in charge of the case.

SUSPECT CUTS WRISTS

A Gulfport resident being held in the Hancock Jail slashed both of his wrists Tuesday and had to be taken to Hancock General Hospital for treatment, according to Peterson.

Waveland Investigator Robert (Poochy) Tartavouille said, "Leis Stamlines, 21, 2307 18th Street, Gulfport was arrested by Waveland Patrolmen John Wilkerson and Gary Chiles Tuesday in connection with a shoplifting incident at TG&Y Family Center."

Sheriff Peterson stated, "Stamlines, who now is out on a $150 bond had cut his wrists and was taken to HGH for treatment, but the cuts were not too bad."

Stamlines is scheduled to appear before Waveland City Judge Lucien Gex tonight in Waveland City Court.

SEEKING THIRD SUSPECT

A third person allegedly involved in a recent robbery of Woods Grocery and a residence in the Pearllington Community is being sought, according to Hancock Investigator Delbert Seay.

On Wednesday, Noah Leslie Russell, 29, who was being held by the St. Tammany Sheriff's office for Hancock authorities was transferred to the Hancock County Jail, Seay said.

Russell is being held as a co-defendant in the grocery store and residence burglaries.

Jeremiah Smith is already in jail as a suspect in the case with two charges of burglary lodged against him, according to police.

A third arrest should be made within a few days, Seay allowed.

ANTI-SHOPLIFTING WORKSHOP—Some 40 area merchants Monday attended a workshop on 'How to Prevent Business Losses Due to Shoplifting, Bad Checks, and Employee Theft' at the Bay St. Louis Library. The workshop was co-sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, the Mississippi Small Business Development Center, and the United States Small Business Administration. Morgan P. Miles of the Small Business Development Center delivers welcome from podium and explains procedures. Panel at the head table and their topics are, from left, Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson, Prevention of Shoplifting and Employee Theft; Dick Kosbab, Hancock Insurance Agency, Protection with Insurance; James Ginn, Hancock Bank vice-president; Bad Checks—Prevention and Collection; and John Scaffide, Bay St. Louis attorney, Legal Aspects. The workshop which included question and answer periods ended at 10:45 a.m. instead of 10 a.m. because of many questions and comments made by the audience. Shoplifting is a very serious crime and is on the increase in our community. We want to personally thank each and everyone involved in bringing this helpful workshop to our merchants. We realize it was scheduled early in the morning, and some were unable to attend. We are sure if enough merchants call the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce requesting a similar workshop at night perhaps, it could be arranged. (Staff photos by Ellis Cuevas).

Bits 'n' pieces

It is good to see the construction signs on Main Street in Bay St. Louis. This means the contractor has begun his work in preparation for the resurfacing.

The merchants of the area can hardly wait for the project to be completed, because travel in the area has been very limited in recent months.

We, too will be glad for the improvements.

Well today is the 6th Annual Smokeout in America and we hope many smokers will observe this special day without taking a smoke.

There are millions of folks who smoke in America and there are also millions who cannot stand cigarette smoke and I am one of those who cannot.

It seems funny when an ex-smoker cannot stand the smell of smoke, but, believe me I know it is possible for sure. As a matter of fact I took my allergy shots on Wednesday, and one of my allergies is smoke.

We know we kicked the habit some 14-years-ago when we made up our minds, so probably some others could too. Good luck!

We see a lot of boats with motors in the yards of residents in our area. Some are protected by fencing while others are parked on the side of the streets.

There has been a rash of motors being stolen in recent weeks, so we urge all boat owners to take extra caution with their outboard motors.

The sheriff's department is aware of the problem and investigators are working on several cases.

It would be wise to call police immediately if you notice a suspect possibly trying to commit any type of crime.

A lot of concern has grown out of the recent tragedy when the Biloxi jail burned and so many prisoners lost their lives.

We realize the Hancock County Jail is very old and now would probably be a good time to get a move afloat for the construction of a new facility.

We know our Hancock County Board of Supervisors met with an official from Atlanta on Monday to discuss plans for a new facility. The project is in only the talking stage, but it is a move towards the direction of constructing a new building.

The biggest problem we have heard mentioned is the lack of funds for the construction and then the lack of funds for maintaining a facility once it is constructed.

It is a serious problem that our Board of Supervisors has to try and solve and they will need the help of many organizations and people to do so.

We have made special arrangements with the U.S. Post Office in Bay St. Louis to forward letters to Santa. We will also try and publish the letters of the requests of many youngsters.

If your child would like to send a letter to Santa, send to Santa Claus, North Pole, c/o The Sea Coast Echo P.O. Box 230, Bay St. Louis, Ms. 39520, or drop it off at our office at 124 Court St. in Bay St. Louis.

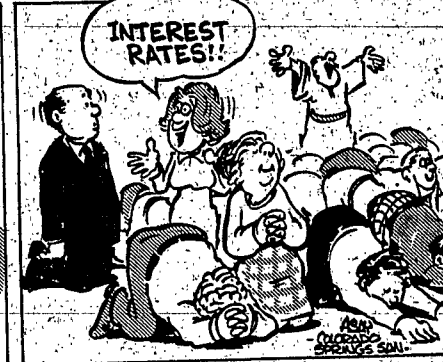

We have already seen some youngsters reading their list to Santa when he visited Sears this week.

Those on the younger side may want to get older brother or sister to write for them.

Today has been set aside as Teachers Day and been proclaimed such by both Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett and John Longo, mayor of the City of Waveland.

We hope all students will remember this as being Teachers Day and they really should do that each and every day. The job of a school teacher is not like it was a decade ago, and you have to be a very special person to put-up with some of the things they face today.

We salute all teachers today and every day.

DR. AUBREY LUCAS

Dr. Aubrey Lucas, president of the University of Southern Mississippi, is presiding over activities today as thousands of smokers in Mississippi try to kick the cigarette habit.

Lucas is the 1982 state honorary chairman of the Great American Smokeout, sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

"This year the Great American Smokeout will celebrate its sixth anniversary and all indications are for another immensely popular day," said Dr. Lucas.

According to a Gallup study, during last year's Smokeout three out of ten cigarette smokers either cut down or cut out smoking for the day. Close to five-million actually quit for the day.

USM president heads Smokeout

"Although 54-million Americans continue to smoke, the number of people who've quit has increased over the years," said Dr. Lucas. "Currently, there are 33.3 million ex-smokers. Reasons to join this group are abundant. Topping the list is the fact that smoking causes lung cancer."

Presently, lung cancer is the number one cancer killer of men, and may soon be the leading cancer killer of women. Cigarette smoking has been implicated in cancers of the mouth, esophagus, larynx, pharynx, bladder, kidney and pancreas.

Dr. Lucas, a native of State Line and a graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi, received his PhD from Florida State University.

He is a past Mississippi Crusade chairman for the American Cancer Society.

State action on wastewater places city in untenable position

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,
The arbitrary order by the Mississippi Commission on Natural Resources designed to halt new connections to the city's sewerage system is prejudiced and obviously unfair.

Mr. Chisholm and his commission are well aware that the city council has indicated on numerous occasions its intention to join an authority.

They are also aware that the council submitted in writing a proposal to the Waveland Authority outlining its intention to join, which proposal was summarily rejected by the Waveland Authority.

The bottom line: The commission orders the city to join; the Waveland Authority rejects our proposal to join.

This places the city in an untenable position.

Sincerely,
Sheldon Seuzeneau

BATAAN SURVIVOR—Bay St. Louis resident J. C. Baxter will tell of his torture in an NBC-TV special, "Bataan, The Forgotten Hell," to be aired at 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 5. The photo at right shows Baxter as he appears on the program. At left is how he looked when he arrived in the Philippines 40 years ago shortly before World War II began.

NBC-TV documentary special to feature Bay's J. C. Baxter

"It broke me but it also made me, and I'd go through it again if I had to," says Joseph C. Baxter of Bay St. Louis who was held in a 15th century dungeon and tortured by the Japanese during World War II.

"I came out of it with a deep sense of patriotism for my country," Baxter's incredible story of human survival will be one of several told by American servicemen during an hour-long, prime time special to be aired on NBC-TV at 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 5.

The program called "NBC Reports: Bataan, The Forgotten Hell," was produced by Darold Murray with NBC News Correspondent Lloyd Dobyns reporting.

"The program is not about war but about the durability of the human spirit. It was partially shot in the Philippines during the 40th anniversary reunion of American and Filipino soldiers on the sites of the battlegrounds and prison camps. Using the testimony of survivors, the show describes the horror of the infamous Death March on Bataan, and the relentless brutality of their Japanese captors during three and a half years of imprisonment.

After the fall of Bataan, Baxter had slipped away from his Japanese captors to join the Filipino guerrillas but was recaptured and was dragged through Manila streets tied to the back of a truck.

At Fort Santiago he was thrown into a dungeon where various kinds of torture nearly caused the loss of his sight and his life. With NBC-camera crew, he returned to the cell where he had been held and described the nightmare which has recurred most of his life. "I lost all track of time...I could always hear the screams and tortures from the other prisoners who were brought to the interrogation rooms...and I remember that I would pray that maybe they had forgotten me, and I would die in peace," says Baxter in the gripping program.

Like other survivors interviewed, Baxter was unable to bring himself to talk about the experience for many years. "I was too emotionally upset," he says.

A former horse trainer and a retired manager and owner of private clubs, Baxter lives a picturesque life of serenity in a rambling 100-year-old house in Bay St. Louis which he shares with his 87-year-old mother.

Several times a week he abandons the dapper white suits he wears "almost until the frost is on the pumpkin" for clothes suitable for fishing in the Louisiana marshes.

Nights Baxter, who is divorced, works on his wartime memoirs, his legacy to a grown daughter and two sons.

Oct. census low at HGH

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The census at Hancock General Hospital dropped to an average of 28 per day during the month of October, according to reports submitted to hospital trustees at a Tuesday night meeting.

Phil Langston, HGH administrator, said a total of 32 patients per day had been expected.

The census in November is showing an increase, he added.

The low October census caused the facility to show a $47,000 operating loss for the month.

Mike Dossett, comptroller, reported collections had improved during October over previous months.

The trustees approved the purchase of a hematology analyzer as a replacement for an out-of-date model, the new unit will incorporate a computer.

Approval was also given for the installation of a new operating light in the maternity suite, as well as for changing lights in the operating room if the medical staff likes the new unit in the maternity section, according to Langston.

In order business, Catherine Lundy, PhD was re-appointed to the consulting staff in clinical psychology.

Dr. Charles Cox was given an initial appointment to the associate staff in the emergency room.

Langston reported the x-ray section renovation was about 40 percent complete and should be finished within two weeks. He also indicated only a few touch-ups were needed on the new metal building for completion and departments should start moving to it by Dec. 1.

Camellia Society's 31st annual show set Sat. and Sun.

The 31st annual Camellia Show sponsored by the Gulfport Area Camellia Society will be held Saturday and Sunday, at the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport.

Admission is free. Show hours will be 3-4 p.m. on Saturday and 1-5 p.m. on Sunday.

Recognized as one of the foremost camellia shows in the nation, the event is held under the auspices of the American Camellia Society.

This show is expected to attract growers from throughout the south and is open to all camellia fanciers.

Richard Gregory of Pass Christian, this year's show chairman, is expecting more than 1,000 blooms to be submitted in six sections—specimen blooms, seedlings, sweepstakes, artistic arrangements, special awards and American Camellia Society awards.

A special T.S. Clower Award will be given by Mrs. Clower for the best bloom of a variety introduced and registered by Mrs. Clower and her late husband.

ETV Brief

"The Making of Superman The Movie," the documentary exploring how the "man of steel" leaped from the comic book page to the silver screen, will be rebroadcast at 9 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 1, on the Mississippi ETV Network. The program was first seen on ETV last August.

Christopher Reeve, the actor who created the role of Superman for the movie and its sequel, is host for the documentary, which features many of Reeve's own reminiscences about the production experience.

Clower, a Gulfport merchant, was instrumental in organizing the local chapter, served as its president and also as a director of the American Camellia Society.

Mrs. Regina Kietzer of Gulfport is chairperson of the Artistic Arrangement Contest, a very popular event among women coast-wide.

Rules and regulations of the National Council of Garden Clubs will be observed for this contest.

All interested exhibitors should contact Mrs. Kietzer at 868-1438 to reserve space. This year there will be a Best Designed Arrangement Award in memory of Mrs. Evelyn Leeton.

Young girls representing Harrison County 4-H Clubs have volunteered to assist in placing and arranging the multitude of gorgeous blooms for the show.

Harry Stone of Gulfport has enlisted the following slate of Camellia Judges to select the best blooms:

Dr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Johnson, New Orleans, La.; Mr. and Mrs. William F. La Rosa, New Orleans, La.; Mrs. O. B. Elmer, Metairie, La.; Mr. and Mrs. John Geiser, Slidell, La.; Mr. and Mrs. James Smalley, Moss Point, Ms.; and Mrs. L. W. Ruffin, Ellisville, Ms.

La Leche League slates area meet at Gulf Park

La Leche League of Mississippi will conduct its third Area Conference Saturday, Nov. 20 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at USM's Gulf Park Campus in Long Beach.

Topics will include breastfeeding and parenting. Guest speakers include Betty Koontz, nurse-midwife; Oscar Stephenson, family counselor; and Charles Gardner, family counselor.

Anyone interested in attending may contact Lilla Bell at 464-5761.

Special guest speaker will be Marian Thompson, one of the seven founding mothers of La Leche League International who will discuss "Relating Good Mothering To Breastfeeding to Our Lifestyle."

Mrs. Thompson was instrumental in developing breastfeeding seminars for physicians which are being held annually and are accredited by the American Medical Association, American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology, American Academy of Family Physicians, and the American Osteopathic Association.

As an authority on breastfeeding, she has appeared at conferences and seminars around the world, is a co-author of the book "The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding," and has written a number of articles published in a variety of medical journals.

La Leche League is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization founded by seven nursing mothers in Franklin Park, Ill. in 1956 for the purpose of helping mothers who wish to breastfeed their babies.

La Leche League stands as the internationally recognized authority on breastfeeding. It has been contacted by mothers, fathers, doctors, nurses, and various professionals throughout the world for its expertise on breastfeeding.

Although it has grown into a worldwide organization with over 4,000 La Leche League groups in 49 countries, its focus still remains on the personal one-to-one sharing of information and encouragement that provides the new mother with the confidence she needs to nurse her baby.

La Leche League meetings are held in the relaxed atmosphere of a member's home.

A series consists of four meetings, one a month, each with its own topic: (1) Advantages of breastfeeding to mother and baby; (2) The art of breastfeeding and overcoming difficulties; (3) The baby arrives; (4) Nutrition and weaning.

The group leader shares her knowledge on each of these subjects and encourages mothers to ask questions and share their experiences.

Leaders are primarily mothers who have breastfed their own babies and are willing to share their knowledge and enthusiasm about breastfeeding with mothers who look to them for help.

Through the series of monthly meetings, literature, telephone availability, and their manual "The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding," La Leche League group leaders offer information, encouragement, and support to any pregnant woman or nursing mother.

The Gulf Coast has groups which meet in Long Beach, Gulfport, and Ocean Springs. For further information regarding these monthly meetings, contact Debbie Webb at 388-7537.

Bay Area Soccer Club reports results, schedules

In the second week of Bay Area Soccer Club league play the U-8 Division continues to provide close exciting soccer as Coca Cola and the Firebirds played to a 0-0 tie, as did Specialty Metal and Hancock Bank.

The only win of the day was posted by the Purple Knights over the Scrappy Doos, 4-0, behind Brent Ladner's two goals.

In the U-10 Division Stark's Restaurant won a close game over the American Legion, 3-1, with Martin getting two goals.

In the other games, Loiacano's shut out Hancock General Hospital 5-0 with five different players scoring, and Little Italy shut out the McDonald's Restaurant 7-0 with six players scoring.

The U-12 Division had a cliff-hanger in the opener as Dr. Murphree, DDS edged Hale Homes 3-2.

Then Mary Carter Paints and Farm Bureau Kiln played a seesaw game with Mary Carter Paints pulling it out with three goals within four minutes at the end, 6-3. The Golden Eagles shut out the Strikers 5-0 in the final game.

In U-14 action Gulf Coast Waste travelled to Picayune to play two games, one against Picayune and one against the recreational U-14 champions from Slidell.

In the Slidell game Gulf Coast Waste dominated the second half, but was unable to overcome a 2-0 Slidell lead. Then with less than an hour's rest they were defeated by Picayune 3-2 despite goals by Josh Bowles and Jonathan Clark.

Meanwhile at home in a league game Bay Waveland Tire and the Scrappers played to a 2-2 tie, with Bay Waveland Tire scoring twice in the first half and the Scrappers twice in the second half.

Homes of the South (U-16) hosted an U-19 team from Picayune in a battle which saw the lead change hands several times.

Benny VanDerKils (who scored a hat trick) opened the scoring for Picayune, but Shane Foreman's three goals in the first half resulted in a 3-2 lead for the home team.

Starting the second half Picayune tied the game again, but it took a goal by Picayune Captain Mike Stephan with less than five minutes remaining to salvage a 5-5 tie for Picayune.

The girls traveled to Gulfport to play their counterparts from the South Mississippi Soccer Club. The U-12 girls played very well, holding SMSC scoreless, but being unable to score themselves. The team is improving and should win some games before the season is over.

The older girls also played to a tie, but they got on the scoreboard as well.

Although SMSC scored first, the Giants came back behind Shannon O'Brien's two goals to force a 2-2 tie at halftime. At the onset of the second the SMSC team recaptured the lead, and it took a 22-yard shot by Kristine Erickson in the final quarter to bring home the tie 3-3.

The adults again put on an exhibition for the youth, this time on Sunday at Picayune. The result was a 3-2 victory behind goals by Fred Bowles, Tom Demboski Jr., and Dave Palmisano.

The schedule for games this Saturday is as follows:

U-8 Division

FLOOD INSURANCE RATE MAPS—Explaining new Federal Flood Insurance Rate Maps at a Wednesday afternoon public hearing at the Pass Christian City Hall are Don Hansford, left, Natural and Technological Hazards Branch community planner of the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Atlanta, Ga. office, and John S. Yeend, an ocean engineer of Gee and Jensen Consulting Engineers, Inc. of West Palm Beach, Fla. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

minimum height. "People could get zapped on insurance rates if they are not aware of these requirements," he stated. In Pass Christian based on the maps, the city harbor and all land south of US-90 is in a velocity zone in addition to several extremely low-lying areas at the east end of the city and near the west end, both just north of the highway.

Hansford was quick to point out that existing structures in the velocity zones will pay insurance rates based on existing regulations and will not pay the higher rate required for new structures in those areas.

The FEMA official noted structures in velocity zones must be supported by pilings.

He recommended owners planning to build on property in velocity zones, start construction prior to adoption of the new regulations by local governments.

But Yeend noted persons planning to construct in A Zones (areas subject to flooding without wave action) need not rush construction plans because in many cases the foundation height requirement will be lowered.

Hansford reported boat docks, piers, boat houses and walkways are not insurable and not affected by the federal regulations.

Yeend revealed persons planning to build in flood-prone areas could also save money with the new study because the maps are more detailed and provide benchmarks for surveyors.

Stone continues in Class A play

By BRENT MACEY

The Stone County Tomcats captured the District VIII title Friday by defeating Poplarville 26-13 and will thus continue on to play District VI winner McGee Friday in Laurel.

The winner of that ball game will face the winner of the District V and District VII game next week, with the winner of that game representing South Mississippi in the District A State Championship the following week.

Stone quarterback Anthony Harris and fullback Harold Tillman each gained over 100 yards and scored two touchdowns during the Poplarville game.

Although the Tomcats are reported to now have the most powerful team in the Deep South Conference, the Bay

High School Tigers dealt the Tomcats their only defeat of the season with 7-0 victory during the first game of the season.

The result of that loss and a Tiger loss to Pearl River Central later in the year, placed all three teams in tie for the Number One slot in the Deep South Conference.

A coin toss to decide who would represent the Deep South Conference was earlier reported to have rolled in favor of Stone County.

However, Bay High Head Coach "Snuffy" Smith would neither confirm or deny reports this week that Bay High School actually won the toss and conceded the conference representation to Stone.

Prior to the coin tossing, Smith stated the Tigers might have to concede the honor of representing the Deep South Conference even if his ball club won the toss.

He noted at that time that three starting Tigers were out of action with knee injuries.

Both Mark Davis, who has since been named Most Valuable Offensive Lineman; and Michael Lewis, named All Conference, have undergone knee surgery.

Other Tigers who are recuperating from injuries sustained late in the season include Randy Bounds, who was the second leading Tiger tackler and named All Conference; Charles Hawkins, who was the leading Tiger tackler and named All Conference; David McIver, who lead the team as quarterback until sustaining a broken wrist; and Tim Proulx, starting right guard who also sustained a knee injury.

Mississippi deer to face guns and dogs Saturday

Another Mississippi deer season will get underway this coming weekend. This time it will be a deer season with dogs.

The second gun season on deer will open Saturday in all 82 counties of the Magnolia State. The 12-day season, which ends Dec. 1, will permit deer hunters to use dogs while they hunt.

The bag limit on deer during this time will be one adult buck per day. A legal buck, according to the Department of Wildlife Conservation in Jackson, is a buck deer with visible antlers of hardened, boney material having broken naturally through the skin.

The Legal hours for deer hunting are one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset.

QUAIL HUNTING

While most persons will have turkey on their mind Thanksgiving Day, many Mississippi bobwhite quail hunters will be thinking of a different bird.

Hunters will take to the fields Thursday, Nov. 25 as the quail season begins in Mississippi.

Extending through Feb. 28, the quail season is one of Mississippi's most popular bird hunting sports.

The Department of Wildlife Conservation in Jackson estimates that some 65,000 hunters enjoy quail hunting each year here in the state.

Annually hunters bag some 1.5 million birds in Mississippi.

The daily bag limit is 12 and the possession limit is 24. Hunters need not have their guns plugged to hunt quail. All hunters, of course, must have a valid Mississippi hunting license on their person before going afield.

Jackson sports weekend includes Bulldog cagers

Mississippi State's final basketball intrasquad contest of the 1982-83 preseason will be held at Millsaps College Gymnasium in Jackson on Friday at 8:30 p.m.

The actual scrimmage will take place at 7 p.m. after a 6:30 p.m. welcome by Head Coach Bob Boyd and a 6:45 introduction of the squad and staff.

This intrasquad contest marks the Bulldogs' first basketball visit to Jackson since Dec. 1980, when MSU met Southern Mississippi (State's collegiate opening opponent on Nov. 29) and lost 68-53 at Mississippi Coliseum.

It also starts a fine sports weekend in the capital, and the highlight will be the Mississippi State Bulldogs basketball game against Mississippi State at 8:30 p.m. in Mississippi Memorial Stadium.

Three years ago the basketball Bulldogs played before a full house at Millsaps, and MSU officials are looking for another outstanding turnout in the Nov. 19 encounter.

Admission is $2, and there will be an autographed basketball from the MSU team given as a door prize. After the scrimmage, the coaches and players will be available for autographs and photos by the youngsters.

"We're certainly anticipating an outstanding scrimmage and a fine crowd in Jackson," said Boyd. "The interest in this game has been building among our fans in the Jackson area, and this will be our last game-type activity before we play Southern Mississippi here."

Information booths will be open at courtside before the game with data on the Babe McCarthy Tipoff Club as well as 1982-83 season basketball tickets.

Dressing deer affects quality of the meat

How you treat a deer, before and after it is killed, has a great effect on the quality of the meat, according to Dr. Ross "Skip" Shelton, wildlife specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Stress caused by exertion or fright can cause the venison to be tough. "A deer that has been run by dogs is going to render tougher meat than one killed quickly and by surprise," Shelton said.

Female deer have a less intense flavor. Most people prefer the less gamey venison. Individuals who prefer a stronger tasting meat should try to kill a male or age the carcass of a female.

Shelton said the animal should be field dressed immediately after it is killed. If the weather is cool, the skin can be left on the animal. This protects it during transport. If the weather is warm the animal should be skinned and the carcass wrapped in cheesecloth to keep it clean.

"A car-top carrier should be used to transport the carcass," Shelton said. "If that's not possible then the trunk of an auto or the bed of a pickup will do, but the carcass should be protected from prolonged exposure to heat."

"A deer carcass, or any other carcass that is going to be eaten, should never be transported on the hood of a vehicle. The heat of the engine will speed deterioration of the meat and may spoil it before it is gotten home."

Additional information about the handling, storage and preparation of wild game is available from your local Extension office.

Paper Company offers hunting opportunities

With the advent of fall, thousands of sportsmen are converging on the woodlands of Mississippi in search of good hunting sites. Harboring a wide diversity of game and wildlife species, forest types, and water resources, the state is rich in hunting opportunities.

International Paper Company expands these opportunities in the state by making its lands available to the public for hunting, fishing, camping, and other recreational activities.

Walter Dennis, IP's supervisor of wildlife ecology in Mississippi, said, "The primary purpose for IP's timberlands is to grow wood fiber for pulp, paper, and solid wood products. But through the company's multiple-use concept of land management, we provide a good home for wildlife and meet many of the public's recreational needs."

Dennis said there are four methods by which IP lands are made available for hunting:

"IP leases or enters detailed management agreements with the Miss. Dept. of Wildlife Conservation, which develops and implements wildlife management programs in the state."

"An individual public permit is required on some lands to help finance wildlife habitat improvement and other related management programs."

"Lands are leased to local organized sportsmen clubs."

Channel 7 to carry 12 NCAA cage events

Featuring many of the nation's top teams and players, TBS Sports will televise 12 live, prime-time NCAA college basketball games during the 1982-83 season on WTBS.

This slate of games can be seen on Hancock Community Cable's channel 7.

The telecast schedule begins with the "dream game" showdown between college basketball's top two big men — Ralph Sampson of the University of Virginia and Pat Ewing of Georgetown University.

Coverage of the Virginia-Georgetown battle begins at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 11, live from Capital Centre in Landover, Md.

"We've lined up a series of top-notch games which will provide SuperStation viewers the best in college basketball," said WTBS President Robert Wussler. "The speed, excitement and traditional rivalries in the college game make it one of sports' most enjoyable events."

Numerous teams ranked high in preseason polls, such as college basketball powers Indiana, Villanova, Louisville, Houston and Tennessee, appear on the TBS Sports telecast schedule this season.

Three games in December, two in January, five in February and one in March comprise 11 of the 12 games. A 12th telecast, as well as series broadcasters, will be announced later.

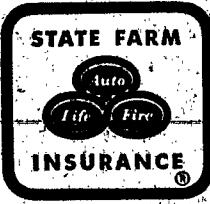

"We're excited about our continued association with the NCAA and our expanded coverage of college athletics," said TBS Sports Executive Producer Terry Hanson.

TROUBLE SLEEPING

You often hear about people having trouble getting to sleep at night. If you are one of those unfortunate who toss and turn for what seems like hours before getting to sleep, you can't always blame that cup of coffee. And you have probably learned that counting sheep doesn't work. Dr. Wm L. Powell, D.O., says that the trouble stems from the fact that you haven't learned to relax. But one can learn by practice. Don't work at relaxing. If after lying down, you are unable to relax, try to find out in what spot your body muscles are still tensed. Then begin to contract those muscles and relax them. And do this again in the foot, leg, arm, chest, stomach, neck, etc. This very relaxing and sleep inducing exercise is called the "Relaxation Response." It is the only way to learn to relax and you, too, can learn to relax. Call for an appointment.

GCJC cage schedule announced

Gulf Coast Junior College basketball coach Bob Weathers, whose Bulldogs placed third in the Crescent City Classic Nov. 4-6, has announced the remainder of the schedule.

The veteran coach said the Bulldogs resume play on Wednesday, Nov. 24, meeting Bishop State at Mobile. The first home game is against East Central at Perkinson on Monday, Nov. 29.

Lady Wildcats to compete in Jones tourney

Pearl River College's Lady Wildcats have a lot of new faces here in '82, but they still have taken up where they left off last Spring.

This past week the PRC girls posted a lopsided 93-29 win over LSU-A and recorded a close 83-79 decision over the Lady Eagles from Meridian. "We made too many turnovers against Meridian," Holmes said. "Our home opener was not a polished performance."

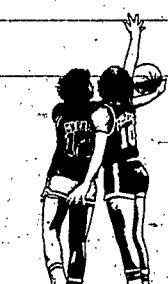

In the season opener against LSU-A the Lady Wildcats simply outmaneuvered the Lady Tigers. PRC rolled up an 46-10 halftime advantage and never looked back. All 10 PRC players scored in the game.

In the first two games, freshman Carmen Reed of New Orleans, has pumped in 23 and 26 points. Against LSU-A, freshman Demetria Jordan of Denham Springs scored 18 and sophomore Christine Fairley of Hattiesburg had 14.

In the Meridian game freshman Jackie Ridgeway of New Orleans scored 21 and Darlene Davis, also a freshman from New Orleans, scored 12.

"We have a lot of people who can score," Holmes said. "I think we are going to get better with experience."

The Lady Wildcats have a home rematch with LSU-A Tuesday night and will participate in the Jones Junior College classic at Ellenville beginning Monday, Nov. 22.

BAY RIDER—Ginger Gilmore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gilmore of Bay St. Louis, and her horse Reckless compete in a Louisiana Hunter Jumper Horse show similar to the Hunter Jumper Show scheduled for Saturday at the Hancock County Fairgrounds on Longfellow Road. The Hancock show is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. The public is invited.

Jumper Show set Saturday

The Hancock County Fairgrounds will again be the site of a Gulf Coast Hunter Jumper Show when beginners and top notch riders from all over the South converge this Saturday at 8 a.m. to participate in the event.

Lavonne Marble, organizer of the event, stated the show will be strictly an English riding event with classes for all age divisions and levels of experience.

Divisions will range from Schooling Hunter, designed for the beginning rider and horse, to intermediate jumper, where jumping ability and speed determine the winner.

The show is recognized by the Mississippi Hunter Jumper Association. Rider will therefore be competing for points which will determine year-end awards for the organization, Marble noted.

The show is free to the general public. Spectators are encouraged to come and see

Career choice will affect individual's entire life style

Choosing a career may determine much more than just what a young person will do every day on the job. The choice may dictate many things about life.

Dr. Ann Jarratt, a 4-H youth development specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, said career choices for youth are really important.

"Just from the standpoint of time, it is important," Mrs. Jarratt said. "Young people entering careers today can expect to spend more than 42,000 hours on the job."

"Jobs determine where people live, since some job opportunities are available only in certain parts of the country," Mrs. Jarratt said.

"Jobs determine where people live, since some job opportunities are available only in certain parts of the country," Mrs. Jarratt said.

some require travel, and some demand a decision on whether to live in the city near the work or whether a person will live in the country and commute.

"The type of job also determines the salary," she said. "Salary dictates the kind of homes people live in; the kind of clothes they wear; and what they do with their leisure time."

"Even choices about marriage, or whether to marry at all, are affected by career choices. Friendships also are affected by careers."

Mrs. Jarratt offers some simple steps that can help young people make better career choices. Among these are:

—get to know yourself.

—If young people forget about time when they're involved in an activity, they're interested," she said. "People need to know what they do well, whether they are skilled with their hands or better at thinking and organizing."

—how about physical limitations?

"A person who is allergic to flowers probably should not plan to be a florist," Mrs. Jarratt said.

—Ask a lot of questions about careers.

"Even after learning what makes them tick, their task is not over," the 4-H specialist said. "Young people must also find out about as many different jobs as they can."

—Try out as many jobs as possible.

Mrs. Jarratt urges young people to work parttime after school or on weekends. If paying jobs are not available, she said volunteer work in that field should be considered.

"Once a person learns about self and about the world of work, all that remains is to match interests and abilities with job characteristics," Mrs. Jarratt said.

"Remember, however, that successful people often change jobs two or three times on their way up. Keep an eye open to expanding options — 82,540 hours can be a very long time or a very short time, depending on how compatible a person is with the job chosen."

USM Foundation tops $1 million

Total income for the USM Foundation has already topped the $1 million mark for the 1982 year. This fact was announced during the Foundation's annual Homecoming dinner and business session Friday, Oct. 22.

The Foundation, recipient of all private gifts to the University, celebrated its first million dollar year in 1981.

Actual cash gifts for the year total $760,000 compared to $572,000 at the same time last year. Other assets and interest earned to date make up the balance for the $1 million plus total with more than two full months remaining in the Foundation year.

Moran Pope of Hattiesburg, president of the Foundation since its establishment on Oct. 30, 1959, was honored on his retirement from that position.

He was presented a resolution from the Foundation commending his service over the past 23 years. Dr. Aubrey K. Lucas presented a silver goblet to the University. Pope also received a gold blazer and it was announced that the "Moran M. Pope Jr. Scholarship" had been initiated by contributions from present and former members of the group. The final endowment of the scholarship will serve as a lasting memorial to Pope's contributions to the University and the Foundation.

He had asked to step down last year as president of the organization but agreed to serve an additional transitional year. A revision of the By-Laws of the organization during the past year now calls for rotating terms of service lasting three years.

Thirteen members of the Board of Directors will rotate off each year as current terms of service are completed. An advisory committee has also been named to work directly with the Foundation Board.

New directors elected to board membership Friday night include: L. D. Brinkman of Kerrville, Tex.; Joe Boardman of Gulfport; Mrs. Mary Joe High of Hattiesburg; and Mrs. Betty L. Tatum of Hattiesburg.

Dr. James C. Watters of Laurel was elected to succeed Pope as president of the Foundation's Board of Directors. Mayor Bobby Chain of Hattiesburg was elected vice president.

Dr. Aubrey K. Lucas, President of the University, will continue to serve as chairman of the board with D. C. Leach of Hattiesburg as vice chairman.

The Foundation also welcomed the largest number of new "Partners in Progress" ever added during one year. Partners are granted this recognition following a significant contribution made to the University in one of several ways.

New Partners include: L. D. Brinkman of Kerrville, Tex., who contributed to the Foundation earlier in the year and recently donated quality carpet for the Alumni House from L. D. Brinkman Carpets, the largest carpet company in the U.S.

John P. and Ellen Moss of Hattiesburg will contribute through the bequest system. A scholarship program will be established in their names for persons who plan to teach school.

Alfred A. and Doris Russum Breland of Houston, Tex., have established a name scholarship in the School of Professional Accountancy or Business Administration.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dews Jr. of Hattiesburg were honored for support through the Foundation over a long period of years.

Dr. and Mrs. James E. Harris of Hattiesburg were recognized for the contribution of valuable medical equipment, office supplies and equipment for use by the Speech and Hearing Science Department and other areas of the University. This was in addition to cash donations.

Edward J. McCarty of Laurel was honored as a Partner through contributions of John and Cheryl McCarty of Houston, Tex., his son and daughter-in-law who each hold partnerships with the Foundation already.

Student filmmakers eligible to enter USM Cottonpix Festival

Student filmmakers in the state can enter their works in the Cottonpix Festival of Films sponsored by the University of Southern Mississippi with a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Films may be in black and white or color, with sound or silent, in Super 8 mm, 16 mm or videotape and may be produced by an individual, a group, a class or a club.

The student producers will be competing against others their own age in classifications of kindergarten through fourth grade, fifth through eighth graders and ninth through 12th graders.

"We hope the Cottonpix festival will encourage the art of filmmaking in the state by rewarding the accomplishments of young filmmakers," said Dr. Onva Boshears, dean of the School of Library Service which sponsors the festival.

All entries must be received by Jan. 24. The Awards ceremony to include screening of winning films will be Feb. 11.

To receive an entry form write the Department of Community Service, Southern Station Box 5056, Hattiesburg, MS 39401.

Long Beach development groundbreaking slated

Ground-breaking ceremonies for Beau Maison Condominiums are slated for 10 a.m. today with Mayor Glenn Mitchell of Long Beach officiating.

The Beau Maison Development Corporation plans to build 108 luxury townhouse condominiums on an eight-acre site overlooking the Gulf at US-90 and White Harbor Road in Long Beach.

The first phase of 58 units is scheduled for completion within 180 days and will feature amenities such as swimming pool and tennis courts.

Sauna and lounge on the site are also proposed, said Dennis D. Stepanek, president of the corporation.

"We are delighted to have the opportunity to build our dream on the Coast and would like to extend a cordial invitation to everyone for our ribbon cutting ceremony," he added. Refreshments will be served.

Literacy tutors needed

A free Tutor Training Workshop will be held in the library at Gulfport High School Saturday, Nov. 20 from 9 a.m. to noon.

"We will teach you what you need to know to teach another adult to read and write," said Mrs. N.V. Williams, "adult learning center at Gulfport."

Each tutor is requested to devote at least one and one-half hours each week to the program.

"During the month of September, we enrolled 40 additional students; we have the largest literacy program in the state; the entire program including the necessary books and materials, are free to tutors and students," she continued.

"The need is urgent: We need at least 20 additional tutors now. You will not receive pay, but you will receive great satisfaction. The adult you teach to read and write will be most appreciative, and when you break the cycle of illiteracy for one adult, that person's entire family benefits, not only now, but for future generations as well," Williams added.

The literacy program is a cooperative effort between Ms. Francis Adkins, director of Senior Aides, and Gulfport's Community Education Program.

To enroll in the workshop, contact Mrs. Williams at 832-8757, or Norris Williams, director of community education, at 868-1172.

Stanislaus band units take honors

The St. Stanislaus High School Marching Band recently competed in the eighth annual Picaune Marching Band Festival against 38 bands from Mississippi and Alabama.

The St. Stanislaus Band received a good rating, while the Drum Line and Flag Corps received a rating of excellent. The Drum Majorette and the Rifle Corps merited a superior rating.

In the Old South Open Marching Contest in Milton, Fla. the St. Stanislaus Band competed against 22 schools from Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida.

The St. Stanislaus Band and the Drum Line received excellent ratings and also received a participation trophy.

Their Drum Majorette, Rifle Corps, and Flag Corps merited a superior rating.

In each of the above contests, the band was judged in the following categories: music, marching, special routines and general effect.

The St. Stanislaus Band is under the direction of Howard Weaver. The drum majorette is Mimi Jarreau; the band president is Michael Delgado; the auxiliary corps captains are Kim Scaffidi and Melissa Sonier; and the drum line captain is John Zimmerman.

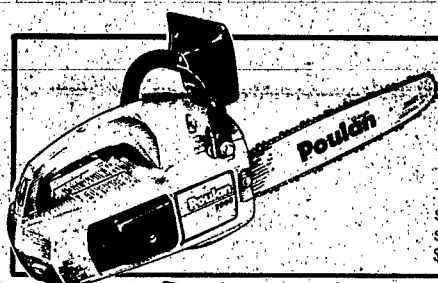

The St. Stanislaus Concert Band will present a Christmas Concert at 7:30 p.m. on the school campus Monday, Dec. 15.
